STOP GETTING SEEN-ZONED. STOP PAYING TO SELL.

In the group chat your post gets buried and your order gets seen-zoned. On the big delivery apps you pay a fifth of every sale and still wait for a rider who will not climb your stairs. Suki is neither. You sell straight to the neighbors two floors down, they pay you directly, and you keep all of it.

THE OLD WAYS

Buried in the group chat

Your benta scrolls away by lunch

Seen-zoned

Messages read, orders never confirmed

The apps take a cut

15% to 30% gone before you cook

WITH SUKI

Sell to your own building

Neighbors who already know your food

One clean order queue

Nothing lost, nothing to scroll

Keep every peso

Paid direct, zero commission

Same food. Same neighbors. Finally, all the money is yours.

WHATEVER YOU COOK, THERE IS A WAY IN FIVE STEPS FROM KUSINA TO KITA.

1

Sign up 1 MINUTE

Tap in with Google or your email. Tell us what you cook and which building you sell to. That is the whole setup.

2

Post a benta YOUR FIRST DISH

Snap a photo, set a price, set how many you have. It goes live in your community feed right away.

3

Take the order ONE CLEAN QUEUE

Every order lands in one place. Confirm, prep, out for delivery, delivered. No scrolling a chat to find who ordered.

4

Get paid direct BAYAD SA'YO

The buyer pays you by GCash, Maya, bank, or cash. The money goes to you, not to us. You keep every peso.

5

Grow your suki REGULARS

Neighbors rate you, follow you, and get pinged the moment you post again. One dish becomes a following.

YOU COOK IT. YOU KEEP IT.

The big apps take a fifth to a third of every order, plus a monthly fee once you grow. On Suki the buyer pays you directly. No commission, no payout wait, no cut. Here is what a fifty-five peso adobo actually leaves in your pocket.

	THE DELIVERY APPS	SUKI
Commission per order	15% to 30%	₱0 • none
On a ₱55 adobo, you keep	about ₱39 to ₱47	₱55 • all of it
On ₱5,000 in sales	you lose ₱750 to ₱1,500	you keep ₱5,000
Getting paid	wait days for a transfer	paid on the spot
Who holds the money	the platform	nobody but you

Bayad direkta sa'yo. Walang commission, walang kaltas.
